

Love You Say

Deacon Blue

So it's May and you're standing here for a day
Till the weather changes it always changes
There you go now with an icecream down the beach
Running sand through your fingers standing miles out of reach

You talk, you don't do
I've got to live in this place you're just passing through
Love you say love you say
I'm going to do these things today

Now it's autumn and it's getting cold and dark
I'm still sitting but you keep on moving past
I'm not the first so let me be the last
Let me be somewhere where I matter
