Colitis Ulcerosa

Dead Infection

Convulsive spasms make taking food impossible. Large intestine perforation causes decease. Anatomised reversibility of phlogistic and ulce rous transitions increase. Unbearable agony refuses family condolenc es. Hospital staff is helpless. A breathing body is undergone the final surg ical intervention. It's too late, anyway. An alien molecule floods e ntails and burns his final breath. Bowels explosion. A compound of semi-digested food flows from his mouth.
