Dead Letter Circus

You'll be dying to breathe again,
When the feeling's over,
Time to for chance,
Time to know the dream,
Has the dream that's broken.

Unify so we meet the hand,
With a heart that's open.
Purify and awaken, then,
It's coming closer.
With its face uncovered,
Time's creeping in.

When we see it fall down,
Just like they dreamed it would,
When we see it burn down,
To rise again.

You'll be dying to breathe again,
When your feeling's over,
Time to take, Time to open bleed,
From the place we've stolen.
Unify so we meet the hand,
With our hearts held open.

Stand for nothing,
We'll bleed again,
It will be unspoken,
No more silence,
No more, no more dying,
We'll stand up,
With his face uncovered.
Time's creeping in.

When we see it fall down,
Just like they dreamed it would,
When we see it burn down,
To rise again.
When we see it fall down,
Wake from this dream and know,
When we see it burn down,
To rise again.

Take cover while,
We're all losing innocence,
Crept closer now,
Run while you still can.
Take cover,
For a change is coming,
And it's down here,
Decide where you stand.

To light up and know that we can end,
And nothing changes a war,
Decided and know that we ascend,
That we can shape it all,
The fire that calms all we pretend,

So we can hope it's all,
Just pictures in stone and,
It's all be for progress.

When we see it fall down,
Just like they dreamed it would,
When we see it burn down,
To rise again,
When we see it fall down,
Wake from this dream and know,
When we see it burn down,
To rise again.
