Individual Thought Patterns

So quick to judge, so easily we forget, what it's like to be dissected. Where feelings are tossed aside. Like a drug it feeds the imagination of minds that go unanalyzed. Followers to the leaders of mass hypnotic corruption that live their lives only to criticize. Where is the invisible line that we must draw to create individual thought patterns. Prisoners of mental deception be free within singular be free within singular judgement. Twisting words to control the masses. To cover up one's self insecurities. Like a drug it feeds the imagination of minds that go unanalyzed. Followers to the leaders of mass hypnotic corruption that live their lives only to criticize. Death
