Poltergeist (The Nemesis)

Deathchain

Wondered through the night to the misty house Escaped to the upstairs Shadow on the fall took many forms Appeared from the darkness Spirit of the past sealed within this house Disciples left their final curse Calling for your name at the darkest hour And nothing shall you see Poltergeist...poltergeist... Poltergeist...poltergeist...

Touching at your hair from the endless depths Should you maybe scream? Spirit of a murderer, molestor of faith Is staring from behind Reaching to your face with his bloody claws And talking dirty words Shadow on the wall took many forms Appeared from the darkness

Poltergeist...poltergeist...
