Seize the Day

Hey oh well it's my turn now You've just lost your precious spot somehow Me I'll take it all away No one ever dreamed you'd up and walk away

You'd love to watch me be the throwaway Just when I can finally seize the day

Take your self and disappear You are still no longer welcome here Fear drives you to act this way The sum of all you've done will be the debt that you pay

You'd love to watch me be the throwaway Just when I can finally seize the day With the fear of losing it to you I'll keep it close and finally break on through

You'd love to watch me be the throwaway Just when I can finally seize the day With the fear of losing it to you I'll keep it close and finally break on through Thanks to you
