

Let Me Down

Defeater

Sleepwalking skeleton wasting away
An apparition losing track of his own feet
Catch my reflection and I don't recognize the face that I see
Barely holding on like the trees to the dead and dying leaves

So let me down
Let me down
Let me down
Let me down

I feel my lungs drink the ocean drowning me
I hung myself with all the secrets that I keep Lie through my teeth so no one knows the shape I'm in
I hide my hands so no one sees her always shaking

So let me down
Let me down
Let me down
Let me down

Lie through my teeth so no one knows the shape I'm in
I hide my hands so no one sees her always shaking

Let me down
Let me down
Let me down
Let me down
