

After While

Deitrick Haddon

I dedicate this song to all those who have lost loved ones along the way. If we hold on we'll gonna see them again after while.

How can I forget the times you held my hand and wipe the tears from my eyes How can I forget oh yeah that when I needed someone you were right by my side I know you had to be an angel in the skies sent from God to bring joy to my life And now you are gone back home and I want you to know

I still hear your voice
I still feel your touch
and when I close my eyes
I can see your smile
though you're gone away to a better place
I can't wait to be with you
after while ooh after while.

Sometimes I break down but I accept God's will in spite of the way I feel Sometimes I wish that I
I wish that I
I could take your place
You should not have gone that way but I know you were an angel in the skies sent from God to bring joy to my life

I still hear your voice
I still feel your touch
and when I close my eyes
I can see your smile
though you're gone away to a better place
I can't wait to be with you
after while
ooh after while.