Take this blindfold off of me I'm walking but I cannot see Mysteries fly at my feet The answers come with no relief Broken shoes won't get you far Climb on my back, I'll carry you afar Words just feel anesthetized But hope is found within the lies And I keep walking down that road And I keep running down that road Take this blindfold off of me I'm crawling, grabbing, breathing for the way I can see Hold me, take me, run with me I know you'll ignite a battered flame that once was bright And I keep walking down that road And I keep running down that road And I keep running down that road That's all there is to say Glory, glory Glory in the highest.
