

Do You Realise

Delorentos

I came to you the other day, to try and find out
You wouldn't listen but you always have something to say
A winning smile with airs and grace can help you ride out the s tormy seas
You tease you always have something to say

Do you realise all you've done is cause a rift between us,
A rift between your heart and mine

You tread a line most wouldn't dare, and then you leave
But it's not over, no you've always got a game to play
And I can't stop you because I don't want to It's much easier to turn and look the other way

Do you realise all you've done is cause a rift between us,
A rift between your heart and mine
