Beautiful Madness

Delta Goodrem

I'm a speeding car You're a postcard never posted I'm a velvet roar And you're a soldier in the sand

I'm not afraid of anything I see if I can feel it Like the unexpected comfort of your love

Would I lie, would I lie, would I lie lookin' in your eyes? Would I laugh, would I cry when it's time to say goodbye? Would I know where you go? All I know is that you found me In this beautiful madness

We make beautiful madness

I am a nervous clock And you're a suitcase lost in Hong Kong I'm a 7a.m. chi And you can always sleep till noon

You make me laugh, under the pouring rain I barely feel it Like the unexpected way you drew me in

Would I lie, would I lie, would I lie lookin' in your eyes? Would I laugh, would I cry when it's time to say goodbye Would I know where you go? All I know is that you found me In this beautiful madness

We make beautiful madness

I would never trade this twisted happy ending I would rather take this road with you that's bending 'Cause the love in you before was just pretending Beautiful madness
