

Greater Love

Demis Roussos

Alone, lost inside my sadness
No place left for me to go
Alone, Nothing left to fight for
No life left in me at all

I turned and saw you there before me
Your face shining full of love
You took my hand and led me
Into a greater love

Now I see the road that lays before me
That leads me into your arms
You held out your hand and took me gently

Into a greater love

I know there will be no other
You are everything to me
You filled me with your sunshine
And with a greater love

Now I see the road that lays before me
That leads me into your arms
You held out your hand and took me gently
Into a greater love
