

Alert intrusion!
They try to change our society.
Our delusion.
Under attack. Revolution.
Must fight back.
Need to protect our path.
Same old track,
It's all we have.

I got the feeling that a part of me is siding with the enemy.
When everything's about money, it's all about economy.
There's no more sense of clarity, a fight for the autonomy.
No one backing the fact the system already cracked.
I think that maybe it's time to intervene and drench the world in kerosene.
Set fire to this parody. Reborn again from all the screams.
We'll see our similarities. A better new prosperity.
We're under attack and it's time to react. Let's go.

Forgive, forget. Maybe it's time for reset ya'll?
But can you make me believe? Is there a future for me?
Last call, last bet. Let's change the settings to default.
But everything we achieved? What if I just cannot leave?

So when the downfall's coming, what will we become?
Everything we were and everything that we've done.

I got the feeling that a part of me is siding with the enemy.
When everything's about money, it's all about economy.
There's no more sense of clarity, a fight for the autonomy.

But everything we achieved? What if I just cannot leave?

Reset the system. Redefine our values.
Our existence, raze the marble statues.
New world order, it's a new way forward.

This goes for all, let's make a new world before we fall.

Forgive, forget. Maybe it's time for reset ya'll?
But can you make me believe? Is there a future for me?
