

One Drop

Depswa

Pick up your hope and go home
When will you learn no one will change
The man can stand in the truth and never see
He's lost all ability to Breathe through the heart and not through the mind
Cut all the ties that left you behind
How long will it take to figure out
That you're the only one

You're one drop lost within the ocean
You're one drop of pure untouched emotion
And to me it seems strange and funny how much you believe
That your one drop can change the sea

How can you feel a thing about humanity
When left out and always alone
May your hopeless desire be proven to put out your pain
You harden your heart and kill what remains
Till the start in the end you're always the same
How long will it take to figure out
That you're the only one

You're one drop lost within the ocean
You're one drop of pure untouched emotion
And to me it seems strange and funny how much you believe
That your one drop can change the sea
Change the sea

And if I close my eyes imagine I can be
For the first time
And it's everything that I thought the love can be and
So much more
And if we close our eyes imagine we could be
For the first time
