hey, we could do you feel this night you should give something too believe i just might go walking outwards please take my legs my leap is useless without him see he holds me like no one does powerless i wish you weren't gone my love has gone and left me alone or have i left hey, in the dream garden i'll wait wait for you show yourself, i do, to show you that i'm old, i've failed, i'm scared i have no wind, i have no will, i am alone but you know that i always try powerless i wish you weren't gone my love is gone and left me alone, i'm alone or have i left show the side that you show no one overpower me show your love and give her something that she won't forget you start i'll follow you love her you leave