

16 Days

Devil Doll

I'm drowning in you I can hardly breathe
I'm gasping for air, I'm being swallowed by the sea
The sun hasn't shown itself for 16 days
But I'm still in love with you let me count the ways

Chorus

You make me weak, crazy, can't find my way home
I'm waitin' in the rain and I'm soaked to the bone
And every time you promise I don't know if it's true
And everytime you say you love me I don't know if you do

You can draw my mind so effortlessly
And I can feel it everytime you think of me
Why don't you let me go why do you put me through this?
I should have known that I was fked from the very first kiss.
