

If I Died In Your Arms

Devil Doll

Well you know that I'd give you my heart
Even if it's torn apart
'Cause I've come too far to be scared
And I don't regret what we shared.
But you know that I love you, for good
And I love you much more than I should
And I can't help but cry when you're so far away
But I smile 'cause I hope that
You'll be back one day

If I died in your arms
Would you then give me your love?
Would you tell me that you need me
And that I was the one?

Now there's nothing I can say to you
To make you feel the same way too.
When you walk away I just want to die.
And I try not to break down and cry.
But you know that I love you this way
Enough to let go and let you walk away.
Now maybe you come back
And maybe you won't,
But when you're not with me
I feel so alone.

If I died in your arms
Would you then give me your love?
Would you tell me that you need me
And that I was the one?

Now there's one thing I need you to know
'Cause you think that you just know me so
That I'll be there if you asked me to Ohh no, if you only knew
That I love you so much that it hurts
But breaking up feels so much worse
You do what you want 'cause I gave you my best
And you know something if you ask me
I won't say yes

If I died in your arms
Would you then give me your love?
Would you tell me that you need me
And that I was the one?

If I died in your arms
Would you then give me your love?
Would you tell me that you need me
And that I was the one?

Would you tell me that you need me
And that I was the one?
