

All We Have Is Now

Devlin

You feel under the weather
Well nothing lasts forever
No joy no pain no love
Adrenaline rush or buzz from a drug
Nothing
Who we are is now
So this lyrics already drowned out
It got lost in time like marty
As soon as it left my mouth, yeah

It was history
Like pixelated pics of me
That captured a moment literally
Lost forever more shit to see
So be the best that you can in the moment
Because trust me it's all that we've got
One day your going to blink to fast
Wake up and it will all be gone

If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more
If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more

Never chase money let it chase ya
In life love what you've got
All that time running from a hater
Just because the ice that you copped
On the rise to the top
Remember who you are on your way up
I never whipped food in a pot
Cooked food in a pot
But I'm still way up
Oi devs this songs so prophetic
I just hope the people that need to get it
Cause too many words get lost in time
Or slide off the page before they've all read it
Just be careful what you adhere to
We're all living off something borrowed
Only do what you are prepared to
Cause there might not be a tomorrow

If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more
If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more

Things we look forward to
Come and then go, I'm just like you

I wish I could pause them too
And relive bliss while the hours looped
But there ain't no remote control
Enjoy every second you get but will never hold
Cherish the minute, cause when it's finished
You can't go back it's a one way road
Who we are is the present
A temporary presence
Surpassed by the essence
Trying to learn lessons
While our skeletons grow
Strong then weak then old
So tears your about to cry
Have already dried in your eyes
Before they've dropped and flowed

If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more
If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more

Time is slipping through your fingers
Don't you know the future lingers
Don't chase the crowd or wait around
Or break yourself to find forgiveness

If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more
If all we have is now
Then now's what I live for
If all we chase is time
Then maybe I need more
Give me more
