I Need Your Love

Diamond Head

So here I am
The Class of seventy six
Worn, drawn and frayed
Not to wonder why at this.

The way of things to come The beat has just begun

I need your love

I need so much - love

I need your love

I need your love, need you here.

So I can sleep

So I'll not dream of war

To reassure the me you've brought so far

The way of things to come The beat has just begun

I need your love

I need so much - love

I need your love

I need your love

I need your love

I need your love

The way of things to come The beat has just begun
