

A Fool To Blame

Diary of Dreams

Autumn leaves are falling
A kingdom left behind
Aimless steps in silence
My crutches fall

I crawl along this path
A stare - possessed
I cannot remain conscious
I sink to the ground

Have you crowned me
To kill a king
Or did you just need
A fool to blame

Why have you disguised me
I urge to bare

Your wisdom slaved
To my debility
You abused my senses
In case of need

You made me depend
On stranger's hands
A kingdom falls
A king, a fool to blame

And how could you dare betray me -
To astray - in paradise
