

When you're still in hope
Wasting precious time
Life has got a hold on you.

When you numb yourself
Staring in the void
Then you've almost lost it all.

If you look for me
I'll make you pay the price
You have a lonely choice to make.

Will you stand and follow?
Will you never come back home?
Every friend and enemy's united to
Be one against you.

Will you stand your ground?
Your eyes refuse to speak
And every single second hurts.

Will it end like this?
You lure me to the edge
My hands are tied to stand as one.
