

Paper Bag Princess

Digital Daggers

Don't know til you're in it
How deep it goes
To the very last minute
Time starts to slow down
Slow down
I was on top of the world once
I was on top of the world once too

Stumbling stumbling
Tumbling tumbling

I lost my kingdom to settle for less
Now I'm spinning around in a paper bag dress
Wondering if this is as good as it gets?
I traded my crown for a beat in my chest

So I could see another day
Oh I knew the price that I would have to pay
To be free
I only needed
To let go

So I started sinking
Further below
Under the surface
That covered the soul

I never dreamed it'd be easy
But I never dreamed it would break me so

I'm stumbling stumbling
Crumbling crumbling

Oh
Stripped to the core is there anything left?
Take all my sorrows and all my regrets
Every last thing that I had to confess
I traded my crown for a beat in my chest

So I could see another day
Oh I knew the price that I would have to pay
To be free
I only needed
To let go

To let go

To let go

So I could see another day
Oh I knew the price that I would have to pay
To be free
I only needed
To let go

So I could see another day
Oh I knew the price that I would have to pay

To be free
I only needed
To let go
