Love And Tragedy

Digital Summer

The waves crash down all around me And consume all the air I breathe The sirens sing to me in my sleep A familiar song of love and tragedy But the sun wont shine were the shadow grows Yet my heart beats still, so tell me is this real Tell me is it real

Or is it all a dream A made up everything Can you tell me Is this real The pain I hold inside The anger that I feel Can you tell me Is this real

The water rises all around me It fills my lungs and I cant breathe Another sleepless night, I can hear their screams Violent cries of love and tragedy But still the sun wont shine where the shadow grows Yet my heart beat still, so tell me is this real Tell me is it real

Is this real Please just wake me Up from this bad dream Why, why did this have to be please just wake me Up from everything
