

Undying Need to Scream

Dillon

Don't know what to say
But it must get out
Won't you stick around
As I try to think out loud

I know that you can handle the truth
Inside of me, the undying need to scream

Tried it with laughter
With anxiety
I've tried it with you
Now I must scream

This must end here
Before I lose my voice over you

This must end here
Before I lose myself in you
