Blood Hunger Doctrine

Dimmu Borgir

Man and his faithful ethics Intoxicated by the fruits of the earth Diabolical fanatikism, so cold and grim The perfect perversion, bestiality incarnate

As instruments of torture And leaving no room for sympathy We bring forth the monstrous birth To the worlds light

As all great art is made from suffering So are we Good in nature, but evil by our own free will Incestuously created by the will to kill

Time is here to walk the final abyss march Bound to the force of the last holocaust Pour free the gifts of grace And slaughter the entire human race

Not permitted to redemption When pain rises high in purgatory A reality so convincingly justified Feeding from Death Cult's gown

We bring forth monstrous birth To the worlds light
