

Gateways

Dimmu Borgir

The core principle of freedom
Is the only notion to obey
The door will unlock our evolution and sin
Bringing new way
The rebirth is near completion
As we slowly awaken from slumber

As we slowly awaken from slumber

The men break this and the spirit ends
(Gateways)
When the gift is once again enchained
(Gateways)
No rules or restraint on our dark planet
(Gateways)
When the ancient future is reclaimed
(Gateways)

No rules or restraint on our dark planet (Gateways)
When the ancient future is reclaimed (Gateways)

It is all there for the eyes that can see
The blind ones will always suffer in secrecy
For it is the omen of what lies submerged
Untouched within us

The core principle of freedom
Is the only notion to obey
The door will unlock our evolution and sin
Bringing new way
The rebirth is near completion
As we slowly awaken from slumber
To receive the light that shines in darkness
The light that shines forever more

Forever more

Be the broken or the breaker
Be the giver or the undertaker
Unlock and open the doors
Be the healer or the breaker
The keys are in your hands
Realize you are your own sole creator
Of your own master plan
