The Ancestral Fever

Dimmu Borgir

From who or what have I Received this gift?
For what purpose do I Seduce this craft?

I know these answers Lie hidden beyond The powers that be The power that is me

I will continue to decipher And make it easier for you Behold! Let it be told

Try and understand
That all and everything
Which I have done
I have done for you

I will continue to decipher And make it easier for you Behold! Let it be told What is fiction and untrue

I will not leave you behind With the burdens of belief And divine misery
That means restless grief

For it is written
The times of old will come anew
And have the universe reversed to its origin
When the ancient winds blew
