

Grandfather's Jacket

Dirty Projectors

I remember winter
When I wore my grandpa's jacket
I remember some time
When I wore no jacket at all
Ah

(And now) And now in the deepest embrace of summertime
And now in the deepest embrace of summertime
Under layers and layers of onionskin
Under layers and layers of onionskin

I remember wintertime
When I wore my grandpa's jacket
I remember the springtime
When I wore no jacket at all
Ah

And here in the deepest embrace of summertime
And now in the deepest embrace of summertime
Under layers and layers of onionskin

Only layers and layers of onionskin
Only layers and layers of onionskin
Only layers and layers of onionskin
