Dirty Projectors

If you have paused in the foil Before going to join the ... year If you were ... and hesitating Asking yourself what's the deal And if a force is telling you the truth You should probably know just what to do I'm telling you right now there's a fire

If you've been looking for reasons deep in the creases are fold ed up close If you've been chasing all shapeless papers, Rubbing on statues, singing blues And if at all, is that enough to know On your right, who's bidding have we done? I'm telling you right now there's a fire
