

Dystopia

Dismantled

Conditioned knowledge
Arranged through screens Controlled emotions
Aligned through dreams
Repressed desires Maintained by fear Imprisoned faith
No will to flee

The order is issued Enforced by steel Compliance required
The transfer begins Assembled and numbered Assigned to cells Injected and wired Reality fades

We'll
Program your minds
Program your dreams
We'll
Program your lies Program your thoughts

We'll
program your thoughts
program your lies
program your dreams
program your lies
program your thoughts
program your dreams
program your thoughts
program your lies

Awake at last
All thoughts are clear
A strength is present
The walls disappear
You stand surrounded Feel no constraints
New blood is flowing Through artificial veins

We'll
Program your minds
Program your dreams
We'll
Program your lies
Program your thoughts

We'll
program your lies
program your dreams
program your lies
program your thoughts

program your dreams
program your lies

The sky is burning blue again
A blinding light protects the gray
A stainless shield against the wind of change

A rising grid expands beyond Converting stars to perfect form
