

4000 Years

Django Django

Stealin' fortunes
While the lights up above
Are bitchin' at the night time

Fleetin' memories
That you met in the day

Two boards revolving
Look down to where you're stranded
Sit there laughing
You're caught up in the traffic

Tripping up over the cell that you're under

Don't think
Don't think
Don't think that you know me
I'll always be a stranger

Don't think
Don't think
Don't think that you know me
You'll never know the answer

Fall apart
And soon to be forgotten
Fall apart
4000 years and counting

Cover me over
and bury me under the sand

Leave me
Hanging
Broken down and blinded
You left me empty handed

Take me
With you
Fix her with your mirror
I'm growing ever distant

Fortunes are folded and burning in your pocket
Faces forgotten
I'm looking back in wonder

Looking on over
The night growing colder

Don't think
Don't think
Don't think that you know me
I'll always be a stranger

Don't think
Don't think
Don't think that you know me

Fall apart

Cover me over
