

The End

DMA's

Reasons why I need to care
You can keep my mind at ease
Something overcast inside of me
No one should feel my eye
People that I've known before
Come and go just like the breeze
Sometimes think they're right in front of me
No one should feel my eye
No one should feel my cold
And I just can't describe
How I got so cold
And I can feel the end

I can feel the end
I can feel the end you know
I can feel the end
I can feel the end
Is there something more?
Is there something more?
And she'll know, when you go

Reasons why I need to share
Nothing comes around for free
Something overcast inside of me
No one should feel my eye
No one should feel my cold
And I just can't describe
How I got so cold

I can feel the end
I can feel the end you know
I can feel the end
I can feel the end
Is there something more?
Is there something more?
And she'll know, when you go
And she'll know, when you go

I can feel the end
I can feel the end you know
I can feel the end
I can feel the end
Is there something more?
Is there something more?
And she'll know, when you go
And she'll know, when you go
