

As My Time Goes By

Dodgy

As my time goes by, I feel myself slipping
As my time goes by, I see your hands gripping
But there's nothing I can do
If it's happening to you
As my life goes by, the world has stopped spinning
Someday they will find me and take me away
And you will think of me just when it rains
'Cos I know that it's never felt so good

As my time goes by, I feel the saint swelling
As my eyes go blind, I hear the sky calling
Lose yourself, lose your soul and mind
As your time goes by I hope that you are listening

Someday they will find me and take me away
And you will think of me just when it rains
'Cos I know that it's never felt so good

Someday they will find me and take me away
And you will think of me just when it rains
'Cos I know that it's never felt so good
