

Every second that slips away
And every moment that goes astray
There's a feeling that starts to fade
What do I do
What do I do, baby
Every hour that passes by
With a vacancy at my side
A passenger on this lonely ride
What will I do?

I will rise like the sun
As it burns across the sky
And I'm
Chasing burn out away
So I can finally leave my troubles behind
And I
Rise like the sun

Everyday that I can endure
It makes you weak that I'm reassured
And every month that is another blur
What do I do
What do I do, baby
And every end that will come and go
Tells me what I already know
That life is beautiful, even though
I'm without you

I'll rise like the sun
As it burns across the sky
And I'm chasing burn out away
So I can finally leave my struggles behind
And I, I've
I've so many places where I have to go - a -a-oh
And so many things
Ohh, I want to know
Ohh -a -oh
Do I rise like the sun?
Do I rise like the sun?
As it burns through the sky
And I'm chasing burn out away
So I can finally leave my Troubles behind yeah
I'm leaving trouble behind
I'm leaving trouble behind
I'm leaving trouble behind
