

Vulnerable

Dommin

I think you should sit and stay a while
I'll do anything to make you smile
Let me be your peace here darling you don't have to keep from falling
Into the slumber you desperately need

I know, you're vulnerable
But let go, it's good for you
I'll be good to you

You can cry until you're out of tears
And you can confess all your deepest fears
Let me share the love you're craving
I'll continue bravely saving
Us from all the bad things in the world

'Cause I know, you're vulnerable
But let go, it's good for you
Throw down your armor, I'll let no harm or
Any trouble come to you
Not to you

So what's wrong, you don't trust yourself
Don't you got a need that you just can't help

Well I know, you're vulnerable
But let go, it's good for you
Throw down your armor, I'll let no harm or
Any trouble come to you
Not to you...
