

Further

Don Broco

Dreaming, dreaming of it
Like it's yesterday
Sing it, sing all of it
Like it's yesterday, feels like yesterday
Climbing over the wall
Go wherever we wanted
Then run away from the law
Do whatever we gotta
You say "Remember me, remember me
When I'm no longer, promise me"

If you're happy don't let it go
If you're not happy you shouldn't have to settle
If it matters you take it on
If it matters at all

And I won't be that lump in your throat
Hold back the dark
Just, hold back the dark
And go further, further, further, further
When it's falling apart and you're buried under
Hold back the dark
Can you hold back the dark?
And go further, further, further, further

Waiting, waiting for you
Now that I've got myself
Wasting you went on the time I cracked my head on the night you went Jumping into your car
Driving home from the country
Found me in the hospital
Telling me not to worry
You say "Remember me, remember me
When I'm no longer, promise me"

If you're happy don't let it go
If you're not happy you shouldn't have to settle
If it matters you take it forward
If it matters at all

And I won't be that lump in your throat
Hold back the dark
Just hold back the dark
And go further, further, further, further
When it's falling apart and you're buried under
Hold back the dark
Can you hold back the dark?

Falling apart, it's falling apart
You promised me, you promised me
Falling apart, it's falling apart
You promised me, you promised me
If it matters at all, it matters at all
You'd pick up the pieces and put it together now
"Remember me, remember me"

Remember me

Hold back the dark
Hold back the dark
And you're further, further, further, further

When it's falling apart and you're buried under
Hold back the dark
Can you hold back the dark?
And go further, further, further, further

Light up the dark
Do you?
Light up the dark
Go further, further
Light up the dark
Do you?
Light up the dark
Go further, further

Light up the dark star
Can you do that?
Can you do that?
Light up the dark, girl
Further, further, further, further

Light up the dark star
Can you do that?
Can you do that?
Light up the dark star
Can you do that?
Can you do that all?
