

Fall For Your Type

Dondria

I, I always fall for, for your type
I, I always fall for, for your type

Can I, can I
Save you from you
Cause you know there's something missing
And that champagne you've been sippin's
Not supposed to make you different all the time
It's starting to feel
Like the wrong thing to do girl
Cause with all that recognition it gets hard for you to listen
To the things that I must say to make you mine
But live girl, have some fun girl, we'll be fine
Trying to convince myself I've found one
Making the mistake I never learned from

I swear I always fall for your type, yeah (for your type)
Tell me why I always fall for your type (for your type)

I just can't explain this shit at all (fall for your type)
I just can't explain this shit at all (fall for your type)

(I believe in people like you)

I'm tryna to figure out why
I keep falling for men like you
You tell me all the things that the last one said
And you buy me all the same things too
Everytime I feel like
This is different
You turn around and prove me wrong
S.M.H. once again
Ohh
I feel like I'm cursed
Will I ever get it right
Is there someone out there for me
Who's willing to get on one knee

I don't know why I always fall for your type yeah
For your type
Tell me why I always fall for your type yeah
For your type
