

Sometimes

Donkeyboy

Nationwide

Hey there people here I come
Step the side, Donkeyboys ain't what you want

But sometimes, I need somebody who can make me feel alright,
And shades me from the streetlights
I'm breaking up, I need someone who needs somebody now

People change, change because of who I am
If you don't, than you and I won't get along

But sometimes, I need somebody who can make me feel alright,
And shades me from the streetlights
I'm breaking up, I need someone who needs somebody now

I need somebody who can make me feel alright,

And shades me from the streetlights.
I'm breaking up, I need someone who needs somebody now

All these thoughts come too my head

But sometimes, I need somebody who can make me feel
Alright,
And shades me from the streetlights
I'm breaking up, I need someone who needs somebody now

I need somebody who can make me feel alright,
And shades me from the streetlights
I'm breaking up, I need someone who needs somebody now
Make me feel alright.
