

When Somebody Cares For You

Donny & Marie Osmond

No matter how the wind may blow
Good times may come, good times may go
How wonderful when first you know
That somebody cares for you
Whenever days have cloudy skies
The world is seen through misty eyes
Two lovers know love never dies
When somebody cares for you
Somebody who will lead the way
Somebody who will dare to say
Follow me and take my hand
And you will surely understand
The world may seem unjust and bad
With all the dreams you never had

But love can take away the sad
When somebody cares for you
No matter how the wind may blow
Good times may come, good times may go
How wonderful when first you know
That somebody cares for you
The world may seem unjust and bad
With all the dreams you never had
But love can take away the sad
When somebody cares for you
The world may seem unjust and bad
With all the dreams you never had
But love can take away the sad
When somebody cares for you
