All You Ever Wanted

You're on your own now So rise to the occasion You're growing old now And you know that time won't wait You're twice the price now It's a no-win situation You sell yourself out With every war you wage You're all you ever wanted You're too much for yourself Don't let anybody in Before you fit in your own skin I'm on the outside looking in I miss the way you're never been You're all you ever wanted I'm on the outside looking in And you are better off Without you Without you You're on the raod now But you got no destination Pick up the phone now Let me know that you'll be late You think you know now But you lack the education Pick up the phone now Just admit you can't relate You're all you ever wanted You're all I ever wanted

Donots