Donots

So sleepless and so sedated
So black-eyed and all worn out
So downcast but still not hopeless
You cure me when you're around
I know you're there I know you'll be waiting there
All the time I know you're there I know you'll be waiting there
Waiting there for me
So restless and maladjusted
So many things that I don't show
So shattered, sometimes so helpless
Embrace me, I need you now
Believe me this is much more
Than I could ever endure I've never been so sure
About being insecure
So sleepless, so medicated I need you now
