

He Drinks Gas

Donovan Woods

He drinks gas
I bet him he wouldn't drink any gas and he did
Just to spite me he did

And he stole my girlfriend
He, he's so good at everything and that's why
That's why she likes him, she does

And she was raised right
Her mother tucked her in every night and that's why
She has good foresight
Yeah that's why
She knows it ain't quite right

When he drinks gas
I bet him he wouldn't drink any gas and he did
Just to spite me he did

And I, I know right from wrong
I know weak from strong and she
Knows a lie from the truth
She says that will do
