

If the sun was never to rise
And with the moon affecting the tides,
It'd be a long dark night,
So aim your glow
Guide the ships in,
Aim your glow
Hope someone's watching,
Aim your glow

When the words are too dark,
And you're in need of a spark
You're tripping over the previous ones,
Aim your glow
For all who can to see,
Aim your glow
If only for me,
Aim your glow

You wanna be the best you know
You wanna be the best you know
You know me I don't give a damn about what's seen,
As long as it's shown
You wanna be the best you know,
But never better than anyone
Maybe the colour of the sky,
Just ain't blue in someone's eyes
You never know until you're behind,
Another soul
And that water in your eyes,
When the wheels come off,
Will take a lifetime to dry,
So aim your glow
Until it's blinding,
Aim your glow
Pray someone's finding your glow
You wanna be the best you know,
You wanna be the best you know,
You know me I can't help myself,
Go at it alone,
You wanna be the best you know,
But never better than anyone
