

Elevator

Dot Hacker

No elevator

Will take you to the top of whatever you think up and down is

You can't perceive them the up and the down

You can't perceive them the ups and the downs

Visualization is vertical the top lays to you

Am I right? Am I lying?

No celebration even with a leg up still fall short,
no competition

You can't compete with them,
they've already won

You can't compete with them,
they've already won

But if your eyes are open,
your heart is open,

your life is open wide

Your life is open,

your life is open,

You're at the top of the bottom of the barrel and you're lost u pside down

This thing is stuck going up up, going down and I can't til it's done

You can't concede that you have no control

You can't concede that you have no control

But if your eyes are open,
your heart is open,

The world opened around,

you fall guys around you,

your life is open wide
