

Walking backwards on a ball
Why are you praying?
Fall down laughing
Somersault into a world I thought I knew
You sure build a lot of walls

Busy playing God
For an audience that's all gone on
You never saw the light of day
Down looking for your chance in hell
You wear that blindfold day in and Day out
I might kill someone tonight
With my ego

You sold me out for
Not much at all
It shouldn't hurt if you're curled up in a ball
I'd probably do the same to you

Watch me gathering
Gathering
Watch me gather speed while trying not to collide

Gotta stop blurring the lines
Oh how do you find the time
Found your way into my day and night
It would hurt to slow down
Time is on nobody's side
By side we are all alone yeah
Try to stop drop and roll

Hey passerby
There's so much beauty in the unknown
Sold yourself out, for nothing at all
Still hurts all curled up in a ball
Protection from the constant assault
Shoulders lowered and just fall

Somersault through life

Salt the ice

Assault is life

Somersault through life
