

Loving One

Dougie MacLean

There are changes that have lead us to this place
Some formed from our wonder and some from our disgrace
But that doesn't help the way we feel
We're standing in the centre of the broken wheel

CHORUS

But I'll change my ways
I'll do anything you say
And I'll be you loving one
Yes I'll be your loving one
Back from the point of no return
I'll be your loving one

Oh our gardens we nearly turned them into sand
To hell with all excuses we just don't understand
It's not ours to do with as we will
It's for the future of our children and their dreams to fill

CHORUS

There's no future but were certain of the past
It's only in the present that the perfect dream will last
And as we watch our chances drift away
We stand on the horizon of the eternal day
