

Resolution

Dougie MacLean

All eyes are empty they hide the heavy heart
And who'll fix the broken dream before it falls apart
All things equal to whom it may concern
The child will lose the place and time will never learn

CHORUS

Hide away, don't hide away, it's just the price we have to pay
When nothing seems to clear it so close but never near Hide away, don't hide away, so many fooling things they say
From the place we started from to resolution

All things equal it's useless to ignore
The well known stranger who is waiting at your door
We stand in silence how can we be here
Waiting in the shadow light for nothing to appear

CHORUS

All things equal to whom it may concern
The soldier leaves his post the jury will adjourn
All faults forgotten and old fools won't repent
As around their jaded words they loiter with intent

CHORUS