

Sad Dreams

Dougie MacLean

Take all your sad dreams you can throw them all away
You see the sky's no longer grey
You didn't tell me and you only had to say
I only hope now you will stay with me

I'm sorry if I didn't really try to understand you
I wasn't thinking I was drinking a little too much at the time
Trying to say I'm sorry that was never my intention
You should smile a little more you're really looking fine

And no you don't seem to be listening to me
I know I haven't been too kind
I tried to say I'm sorry oh God surely you can see
I really loved you in my mind
I really loved you in my mind
