

The Ferry

Dougie MacLean

The boatman is waiting to sail me away
These aching hands have worked me through another day
But I hear a tremble in our northern sky
And like the wind that shakes the valley I will fly
Ferry me over ferry me on
Ferry me over ferry me on