

I Will Not Hide

Doves

You know I cannot lie I've never been before
But the lines upon your face recall a different time
If this is a test to see who blinks before the other
I will not yield I will not hide I will not hide anymore

I will not hide anymore

You know I wouldn't lie before tonight
I've never seen you in this light
So forgive me if I stutter
And forgive me if I question your price

But the lines upon your face recall a different life
And I'm told that the view from there is very nice
Will you forgive me for questioning your asking price?
We can decide this with a coin or with a roll of dice
Roll the dice, roll the dice

You know I wouldn't lie before tonight

I will not yield
I will not hide
I will not yield
I will not hide

I will not yield
I will not hide

I will not yield
I will not hide
